Wan Harris Zaky Haji Ibrahim worked temporarily for M/s AV ELECTRONICS from October 1, 1995 to April 8, 1996 as a Computer Salesman Cum Technician. His duties included repairing and servicing computers, explaining to clients on hardwares and softwares, keeping his customers informed of up to date products at users meeting group which is held once every month.

During this short period we found him very capable, diligent, efficient, and independent. He was willing to work over-time hours in cases of emergency. He had a very keen interest in working with computers.

He got along well with his fellow colleagues and cooperated with them. He was indeed a great asset to our company. He left our company because he intended to continue with his studies overseas and we wish him the very best.
